Orthodox Easter

For Orthodox Easter, dying eggs red, symbolizing Christ's blood, has held strong throughout the millennia as an Easter tradition. The egg in itself is a symbol, as its hard shell represents the sealed tomb of Jesus—the cracking of which symbolizes His resurrection from the dead and exit from the tomb. The Orthodox tradition includes a game where you attempt to crack each others eggs upon the other's. The owner of the winning egg is said to have good luck for the next year.
