

November Recap

November at Rosewood kicked off with the excitement of the Melbourne Cup, an event marked by splendid headwear, lively sweeps, and an atmosphere of celebration. The month unfolded with a diverse range of activities, including engaging paint and sip sessions, men's gym sessions, coloring and puzzles. Birthdays were joyously celebrated, adding a touch of warmth to the month's festivities. A special highlight was the addition of Jack to the Rosewood family at Leederville.

Intergenerational Activities

Intergenerational activities have proven to be a remarkable source of joy and vitality for individuals in aged care settings. At West Perth we often make this part of our monthly activities calendar. The exchange of experiences and interactions between older adults and younger generations creates a dynamic environment that promotes social engagement and mental stimulation. Whether it's through storytelling, arts and crafts, or collaborative projects, these activities bridge generational gaps, fostering a sense of connection and giving our residents a renewed sense of purpose sharing their wisdom and life lessons with children.

Meet Jack

We have a new furry resident at Leederville that has brought immeasurable joy to the residents. Jack is our charming new facility cat, that has quickly become a beloved companion, filling the halls with warmth and purrs. Beyond the obvious delight he brings, Jack also serves as a source of numerous benefits for the elderly residents. Studies have shown that the presence of companion animals can have therapeutic effects on the elderly, including reduced feelings of loneliness and depression.
